

CSBC Information

Activities

Campers are placed into age-appropriate groups and participate in daily activities in these groups. During daily chapel and for most meals, the whole camp meets together. Cabin groups (or Day Camp groups) are led in camp activities by the group counselors and other adult staff, as appropriate.

CSBC activities may include: games, crafts, art, hiking, swimming, canoeing, initiative activities, archery, sports, cookouts, nature games, orienteering, Bible studies, and daily chapel. Overnight camps also include campouts, campfire programs, night games, and night swims.

Each cabin group is led and supervised by two counselors. You may request one cabin mate (or group mate for Day Camps) on the registration form. Your friend must also request you as a cabin mate.

Cumberland Springs Bible Camp is owned and operated by TMM Ministries, Inc., a non-profit, non-denominational organization. The camp is located 3½ miles west of Dayton, TN on Hwy 30. Established in 1946, CSBC is one of the longest running camps in this area. CSBC is a member of Christian Camp and Conference Association. As has been true since the camp was opened, rules for acceptance are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, national origin, or handicap.

A week at CSBC is designed to help you mature physically, emotionally, and spiritually. Our small group format provides opportunities to establish friendships based on trust and teamwork. Through “gentle” physical challenges you will learn to push yourself and try new things. Most importantly you will learn how God would have you relate with others and to trust Him as you learn new skills.

Our friendly, caring counselors provide “peer” leadership and are models of young people who want to serve Christ. The combination of spending time with these counselors and attending chapel services where the Gospel and other Biblical truths are taught provides a unique opportunity for spiritual growth.

All activities at camp are conducted in a non-threatening, inclusive style. We want you to have fun and go home a changed person. Come spend a week with us. Bring a friend and be ready to find some new friends!
